Town of Wolfville 125th Anniversary

Mr. Speaker, this Sunday the citizens of Wolfville will gather at the Farmers Market to kick-off celebrations for the town's 125th Anniversary.

Wolfville, or Mud Creek as it was originally known, was incorporated in 1893. It was already a busy place then. Acadia University had been graduating students for over 50 years when Wolfville became a town.

Mr. Speaker, when I think about those original citizens of Wolfville who took the steps necessary to incorporate their town, I think they would be extremely proud to see what Wolfville has become 125 years later— a community that demonstrates that towns can thrive and diversify and provide an enviable quality of life for its citizens.

Mr. Speaker, I invite all Members of the House to join me in congratulating Mayor Jeff Cantwell and all citizens of Wolfville on the 125th Anniversary of the Town of Wolfville.
